Hi Michele and Rick

here are new photos from this from this morning. water coming in by the dryer vent and the entire corner where the washer and dryer is located is soaked. I know the rains were heavy yesterday and I know you're working on this.. just wanted you to see where the rain was coming in now.. as you can see the walls are soaked...

to the far left of the breaker box underneath where the water supply is located breaker box area as typical directly behind the washer/dryer in the corner (top and a lot in the bottom corner)

* these pictures are a little fuzzy, but you should still be able to make out where its located, if not please let me know

Dave
