Rick,

I left you a voicemail tonight since I couldn't the other day. I sent 1 email Monday with pictures of the basement. Today I come home from work around 9:00pm. It hasn't rained for quite a few hours and I think the basement walls are worse than before.. Please look at the enclosed pictures and see for yourself. I know the grade still has to be set up, but everytime the basement gets wet, everytime it rains, the walls/blocks get more and more wet each time. Each time closer to the electrical box and now its worse behind the phone system box. The plywood behind the phone system is now also wet, not damp...

Thanks
