here are 92 pictures from today THursday Sept 29th 2005. As you can see nothing has changed at ALL! I think something major has to be done and I'm not an engineer but from looking at these pictures and knowing what you've already done, something more major needs to happen; french drains, rerouting wherever all of rain/water is coming from. This is getting past ridiculous ...

additionally the grout in our foyer is starting to crack around the door due to all of the water just laying there. Believe it or not I work for a living and can't sit in my foyer to soak up the rain the very second it happens.

- 1st priority foyer water and all of the basement water fixed!
- Since the grout around the door is cracking that needs to now be fixed.
- Chaulking around our entire front house like last time won't fix this so instead of loading up the chaulking to make our house look worse there needs to be a permanent solution to this.
- Find a way to clean the water stains off the basement walls somehow. Don't care how you do it, but once this is permanently fixed we are not looking at water stains on our walls from that point on.

You have been sent 92 pictures.
